

Dry Law Chief Issue, Asserts Frelinghuysen

Edwards Agrees With Him;
New Jersey Senate Battle
To Be Fought Out Along
That Line; Tariff on Side

Record Loses by 100,000

Sends Congratulations to
Victor, but Makes No
Promises of Support

United States Senator Joseph S. Frelinghuysen, who was renominated over George L. Record in the New Jersey Republican primaries Tuesday by a majority of 95,000 to 100,000 votes, said yesterday that prohibition would be the principal issue in his campaign for re-election against Governor Edward I. Edwards, nominated without opposition by the Democrats.

"Mr. Record's vote, particularly in the outlying districts, was largely a protest against prohibition," the Senator said. "But prohibition will not be only issue. My platform will be presented to the voters of the state on Saturday."

It is believed that Senator Frelinghuysen will stress the achievements of the Harding Administration in the election campaign, as he did in the primaries. He also is expected to defend the tariff against the attacks of the Democrats. Governor Edwards, it is believed, will use the tariff as a target in his fight for the Senate seat, but will base his campaign primarily on his antagonism to the Volstead Act.

Frelinghuysen Sure of Victory
Senator Frelinghuysen was asked if he expected a particularly hard fight this fall.

"No," he replied, "I do not. You must not forget that this vote nominated me by a tremendous majority, about 100,000, or three to one."

State Chairman Stokes, in a statement issued yesterday at Trenton, expressed his gratification at Senator Frelinghuysen's renomination.

"It is a victory for progressive and constructive conservatism," he declared, "and it is a defeat for the appeal to prejudice and iconoclasm. The result shows that the people are tired of radicalism and destructive policies and do not tolerate class hatred, but that, economically, they want peace, not war, and upholding of the nation's industrial structure, that business and industry may prosper and employment and wages be secure. The vote insures a Republican victory at the polls if a vigorous and active campaign is waged, and it will be."

With a few scattered districts in rural sections still to be reported, Frelinghuysen's total was 178,622, as against 86,859 for Record.

Record Sends Congratulations

The defeated candidate, although he telegraphed Frelinghuysen his congratulations couched in brief terms, declined to say definitely whether he would support the Republican nominee in the campaign. He said he would give out a statement to-day.

The following were nominated for Congress:

First District—Francis F. Patterson (Rep.); Ethan P. Wescott (Dem.).

Second District—Isaac Bachrach (Rep.); Charles S. Stevens (Dem.).

Third District—Theodore F. Appleby (Rep.); Elmer H. Geran (Dem.).

Fourth District—Elijah C. Hutchinson (Rep.); Charles Browne (Dem.).

Fifth District—Ernest R. Ackerman (Rep.); Monell Sayre (Dem.).

Sixth District—Randolph Perkins (Rep.); Thomas A. Shields (Dem.).

Seventh District—George W. Seger (Rep.); Colonel Wilmer A. Cadmus (Dem.).

Eighth District—The Rev. Warren P. Con (Rep.); Frank J. McNulty (Dem.).

Ninth District—Richard Wayne Parker (Rep.); Daniel F. Minahan (Dem.).

Tenth District—Frederick R. Lehl (Rep.); John Francis Cahill (Dem.).

Eleventh District—Dr. Archibald E. Olpp (Rep.); John J. Eagan (Dem.).

Twelfth District—William A. O'Brien (Rep.); Charles F. X. O'Brien (Dem.).

Congressional Candidates Are Queried by "Wets"

Questionnaire Is Issued by Association Against the Prohibition Amendment

A questionnaire requesting the views of all State Congressional candidates on the prohibition question has been issued by the Association Against the Prohibition Amendment.

The six questions asked are:

1. Do you favor immediate modification or repeal of the Volstead act to permit the manufacture and distribution of light wine and beer through some agency other than the saloon?

2. Will you vote in favor of the passage of such legislation?

3. Will you favor legislation which will restore to the several states their sovereign right to enact suitable legislation regulating the beverage use of alcoholic liquors which are not, in fact, intoxicating, under the "concurrent power" clause of the Eighteenth Amendment after Congress has fixed a true definition of what is intoxicating liquor?

4. Will you vote in favor of the passage of such legislation?

5. Will you favor legislation which will enable the people to vote directly on the question of the repeal of the Eighteenth Amendment through the medium of conventions, as provided for in Article V of the United States Constitution?

6. Will you vote in favor of the passage of such legislation?

Blind Jersey Editor
Named for Assembly

Thomas M. Muir, blind newspaper editor, of Plainfield, N. J., received the Republican nomination for the State Assembly by a majority of about 5,000 votes.

He carried every election district in Plainfield, and was the only anti-organization candidate to be nominated in Union County. His victory is regarded as equivalent to election, as the district is overwhelmingly Republican.

The editor made stump speeches all over the county. He accused the regular Republican organization of unfair tactics, and he countered its opposition by building up a machine of his own. One of his lieutenants was Freddie Welsh, former lightweight champion pugilist.

Autumn Suits for Women

—take both fur and embroidery, providing the season's most remarkable value at

45.00

There's a decidedly debonair air about these Autumn suits—and it's hard to decide which style feature is most responsible. It may be the jaunty box coat, the attractive hand-embroidery that adds its touch of color, the soft collar of fur—but we're inclined to believe that each contributes to make a suit of distinction. Of bolivia cloth, lined with crepe de Chine and interlined.

Tweed Suits for Misses

Special, 25.00

They're so Autumnly looking that one wants to wear them instantly into the clear sunshine—fashioned of plaid or heather mixtures in Nature's colorings. In box or semi-fitted coat models that may be worn with or without a belt, convertible or notched collars, and crepe de Chine linings. Warmly interlined. Fourth Floor
